Friends Meeting at Cambridge invites you to a joyful evening of music, sung and played by Jon Watts. Jon will be bicycling his way up from Richmond VA, carrying his equipment with him on a specially designed bicycle and performing at various Quaker meetings along the way. He has been noted for his spirited and innovative programming, and singing on themes that are rooted in Quaker history and spirituality and meaningful to Quakers and others today.

Jon Watts is a “Young Friend”—a Quaker in the 18-35 age range—and he's found a passion and a ministry through his music. He graduated from Guilford College and then spent a year at Pendle Hill Quaker Study Center, a year in which he founded Bull and Mouth Records. Hip Hop and Indie Rock are his preferred musical styles, and George Fox, James Naylor and other Quakers are his homies.

Sponsored by Youth Programs Committee and Fellowship and Outreach.
