

REINSTATE LAID OFF UFS WORKERS NOW!

On Thursday, January 17th, a Harvard staffer with 25+ years of experience got the news she is being laid off. Out for months on a disability leave, she was cleared by her doctor to return to work only to be told Harvard is terminating her! She joins two other employees from University Financial Services who have already been dismissed from their jobs. All three are workers of color, all are over 40, two have histories of disability. Every white worker in the dept will remain employed. UFS workers have been under layoff threat for many months, constantly pressured to work ever-faster lest they face the unemployment line.

Please contact William J. Murphy, Director of Harvard's Labor Relations at 617-496-9193 and/or bill_murphy@harvard.edu.

Sample message:

"I have heard that 3 workers of color are being laid off from University Financial Services, while all Caucasian workers in the unit will stay employed. This apparent discrimination threatens to give Harvard's reputation another big old stain! Further I understand that the workers were subjected to unimaginable stress and the constant threat of losing their jobs for more than six months before Harvard kicked them to the curb. One just returned from a disability leave only to be terminated. Please remedy this situation and immediately reinstate the three laid-off UFS workers!!"
